

Deep Brain Stimulation in Neurology and Psychiatry – Ethical, Legal, and Social Aspects

International Meeting, February 3, 2012
Cologne, Germany

Heads of Program

Prof. Dr. Christiane Woopen

Joint Project Coordinator
Research Unit Ethics, Institute for the History of Medicine and Medical Ethics,
University of Cologne

Prof. Dr. Lars Timmermann

Department of Neurology,
University Hospital of Cologne

Prof. Dr. Jens Kuhn

Department of Psychiatry,
University Hospital of Cologne

Prof. Dr. Christian Katzenmeier

Institute of Medical Law,
University of Cologne

Elena Moro, PhD, MD

Division of Neurology,
Toronto Western Hospital,
University of Toronto, Canada

Matteusz Zurowski, MD, MSC

Department of Psychiatry, Toronto Western Hospital

Schedule

Introduction

Germany: Christiane Woopen
Canada: Elena Moro

Deep Brain Stimulation in Neurology What do we have? Where do we go?

Elena Moro

The challenge of Deep Brain Stimulation in Psychiatry State of the Art

Damiaan Denys

DBS as an interdisciplinary endeavor Who should participate and when?

Judy Illes

Translational DBS Research and the Future of a Half-Way Technology

Joseph Fins

ELSA-DBS: Presentation of Empirical Study Results

Christiane Woopen, Lars Timmermann, Jens Kuhn, Elena Moro

The Identity Problem

How to differentiate good and bad changes?

Matteusz Zurowski

Patients' Values and Outcomes following DBS

Cynthia Kubu

Legal implications of DBS: What has to be regulated? An International Dialogue

Christian Katzenmeier, Jennifer Chandler

Registration

To register please send a short note to the following email address:

forschungsstelle-ethik@uni-koeln.de

Deadline: January 10, 2011

For further information please visit our homepage:

http://geschichte-ethik.uk-koeln.de/forschungsstelle-ethik/

Attendance of the conference is free.

Location

The Cologne Chocolate Museum
Am Schokoladenmuseum 1 A

50678 Köln

www.schokoladenmuseum.de

SPONSORED BY THE

Federal Ministry of Education and Research

