

The W. Maurice Young Centre for Applied Ethics and the National Core for Neuroethics in partnership with The Centre for International Child Health and the Liu Institute's Global Health Network is pleased to present:

Dr. Steven Miles, Guest Speaker

Steven Miles, MD is Professor of Medicine and Bioethics at the University of Minnesota Medical School in Minneapolis. He is an Affiliate Faculty for the Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies and for the Law School's Concentration in Health Law and Bio ethics. He has served as President of the American Society of Bioethics and Humanities and received its Distinguished Service Award. Among his other awards is the National Council of Teachers of English George Orwell Award for Distinguished Contribution to Honesty and Clarity in Public Language.

Dr. Miles has published four books, more than twenty chapters, and over 200 medical articles on medical ethics, human rights, tropical medicine, end of life care and geriatric health care. The Hippocratic Oath and the Ethics of Medicine, Oxford University Press, reviewed the meaning of the Hippocratic Oath as illuminated by the medical texts of its time. His latest book, Oath Betrayed: America's Torture Doctors, (University of California Press, 2009) examines military medicine in the war on terror prisons. He also served as medical director for the American Refugee Committee for twenty-five years which has included service as chief medical officer for 45,000 refugees in various countries. He is on the Board of the Center for Victims of Torture. His work has changed health care insurance, end of life care, the use of restraints in nursing homes, refugee camp medicine, and prison medical ethics.

War on Terror Interrogations: Lessons for Forensic Behavioural Clinicians

The objectives:

- To understand how policies and institutions were constructed to engage behavioural science clinicians in coercive interrogations
- To understand the relationship between civilian clinical societies and government agencies during this process.
- To be able to more constructively act to protect professional ethics in the face of governmental pressure.
