Urban Health Summit

Tuesday, June 22 DAY 2

The Urban Health Summit builds on the growing evidence of health challenges for people living in substandard housing. The Chair of the Mental Health Commission of Canada and the Mayor of the City of Vancouver will provide their views as introductory remarks, followed by 3 blocks of focused discussions.

The discussion blocks will be started with short introductory remarks and 2 invited comments. This event will support the City, the Health Authorities and other decision makers in addressing the problems.

Introduction

Gregor Robertson, Mayor, City of Vancouver

Michael Kirby, Chair of the Mental Health Commission of Canada

Block 1

Homelessness and health - primary and emergency care for vulnerable populations

Block 2

Addiction and mental health in the city

Block 3

Housing first, not housing only solutions and lessons learned so far

Panel Discussion
